(B)(1) Except as provided in division (B)(2) of this section, at the time of a patient's discharge from a hospital's emergency department, the hospital shall provide to the patient an overdose reversal drug if the patient presented to its emergency department with one or more symptoms of an opioid overdose, opioid use disorder, or other adverse event related to opioid use.

(2) A hospital is not required to provide an overdose reversal drug to a patient under division (B)(1) of this section if any of the following is the case:

Payment of the claim is dependent on whether the patient's health benefit plan or the medicaid program covers the drug and the terms and conditions for that coverage.

(2) Under division (D)(1) of this section, a hospital may seek reimbursement for the cost of an overdose reversal drug only if the drug provided to the patient was from a supply purchased by the hospital.
